Have you or your business been victim to a scam? How can you avoid this in future? Is your business protected?

Join us, along with your colleagues and like minded business professionals, as Dr Schaper provides tips on how to avoid common pitfalls around cartels and scams – and some of the Australian Competition and Consumer Commission's (ACCC) recent work in the area.

He also explains the new protections for small business from unfair terms in standard form contracts. How do they work in practice? What do businesses need to do if faced with an unfair contract term? Which industries will it affect?

Dr Schaper also previews the big issues for 2017 and how they will affect your role as a Director.

Speaker

Dr Michael Schaper FAICD

Deputy Chair
Australian Competition and Consumer Commission

Dr Schaper's work has a special focus on small business, franchising, industry associations and business liaison with the national competition and consumer protection regulator. A previous President of the Small Enterprise Association of Australia and New Zealand, he has also previously served as Small Business Commissioner for the Australian Capital Territory, Chairperson of the ACT Small and Micro-Business Advisory Council and a Director of the International Council for Small Business.

Dr Schaper is also a Fellow of the Institute of Public Accountants, and a divisional councillor with the Australian Institute of Company Directors (ACT).

Michael has previously managed a community small business centre; been an advisor to government at both state and federal level; and held lecturing, professorial and dean roles at a number of Australian universities.
